Police divers find body of canoe victim

THE family of a young man who died in a canoeing accident this week have paid tribute to a "loving and affectionate son".

Police divers found the body of Sanjai Chauhan, of Pytt Field, Harlow, while searching a section of the River Lee near Wormley on Tuesday evening.

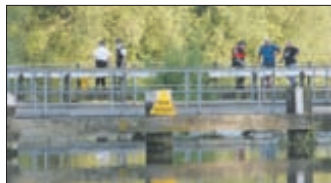

The 19-year-old commis chef capsized after taking his canoe onto the water and heading downstream over a weir on Monday afternoon.

Yesterday (Wednesday) his mother, Mala Chauhan, spoke movingly of her loving and affectionate son who had been very close to his family and friends.

"He thought the world of me and would do anything to make me happy but he was also very independent and lived for the day," she said.

"He enjoyed a thrill and adventure but never to the extreme. Whenever he tried anything he put his heart and soul into it and when his heart was set on something

SCHOOLS SHOCK

Three of six secondaries given Government ultimatum

FAILING: BRAYS GROVE

FAILING: MARK HALL

FAILING: STEWARDS

HALF the secondary schools in Harlow have been given an ultimatum to improve or face closure in a radical move which could affect more than 2,000 pupils.

In an embarrassing development for MP and higher education minister Bill Rammell, three of the town's six senior schools have been labelled as failing and ordered to make swift improvements as part of a Government drive to improve standards.

But the move – which affects only one in five schools nationwide – has been criticised as a slur on schools which many believe achieve great success under difficult circumstances.

Brays Grove, in Traces Road, is due to shut this year anyway as part of a controversial merger with the more successful Passmore. But for Stewards, in Parnall Road, and Mark Hall, in First Avenue, the news is a surprise blow.

Headteachers have been told the number of pupils attaining five good GCSEs must increase within three years if their schools are to survive, and have been offered support from a £400m national fund.

If they cannot get at least 30 per cent of pupils achieving five A*-C grades, including English and mathematics, they could be shut down and replaced with privately funded 'academies' or forced into partnership with better-performing schools nearby.

Mark Hall has 27 per cent of pupils making the grade, Stewards has 24 per cent and Brays Grove 22 per cent.

However, all three have good scores of more than 1,000 in the 'contextual value added' rating, which takes into account previous academic achievements of pupils, the number with special needs and local

Recalling an interesting character

CORRESPONDENCE
Arrives in response to last month's picture postcard of Rhoda's Snack Bar, which was located at The Gables restaurant, in Old Harlow.

"At the time, my mother, who was Rhoda's sister, was a waitress there, but she is not the one in the picture," writes Andy. "The Gables at that time was owned by Major Ralph Russell and his wife Louie. Rhoda's snack bar had a separate entrance to the right of the main restaurant and is now a jewellery shop." He adds: "Rhoda Neill (nee Negus) was an interesting character and a long-time resident of Churchgate Street. She was one of my grandmother's 10, plus one adopted, children. "After leaving The Gables she opened a fish and chip shop in her back garden in Churchgate Street with another sister, Mildred. After this she ran a small shop called The Handy Shop opposite their house. This was later taken over by her brother, Ernie Negus."

Labour's grip on town ends

By BEN WILKINSON

WITH flagging opinion poll ratings and the leadership of PM Gordon Brown under constant criticism, the Labour Party is in its most difficult period for years.

After the recent election of Harlow's first Conservative-controlled council, the problems for the party once synonymous with the new town's name are perhaps as local as they are national.

It is something of a coincidence that this week marks a quarter of a century since Labour lost the town's Parliamentary seat for the first time. The constituency of Harlow was created in 1974, with the town having previously been represented at Westminster by the MP for Epping. The first man to represent the new constituency was Labour's Stan Newens, now chairman of Harlow Civic Society.

Having previously held the Epping seat as well, by 1983 Mr Newens had been in the House of Commons for 15 years and was seeking his fourth term in the Harlow seat.

Thatcherism was in full flow, with policies such as the right to buy council houses and the Falklands War having boosted the Conservative government's popularity.

Meanwhile, Labour had been taken over by its most left wing members and had produced a radically socialist manifesto – later dubbed "the longest suicide note in history" – which proposed unilateral nuclear disarmament, the abolition of the House of Lords and withdrawal from the European Economic Community. To make matters worse for the 54-year-old Mr Newens, the Conservatives had a young and charismatic new candidate for Harlow in the shape of 30-year-old barrister Jerry Hayes.

It was always going to be difficult for Labour to hold on to the town and on election night Mr Newens' 1,400 majority turned into a 3,600 majority for Mr Hayes.

Celebrating his win, the new MP paid tribute to his predecessor's hard work: "It was not Stan who lost for Labour, but Labour who lost it for Stan," he said.

But this was little consolation for Mr Newens, who told the Star at the time that both he and his wife Sandra, his secretary, would be on the dole.

"I believe the people of Harlow and of Great Britain have made a big mistake," he said. "Harlow will return to its traditional Labour support in the House of Commons."

Eventually, his prediction came true. Mr Hayes – pictured here being confronted by protestors later in his career – lost the seat back to Labour in 1997 to current Harlow MP Bill Rammell.

25 YEARS AGO

June 9, 1983

ON TOP OF THE WORLD

HARLOW'S new MP Jerry Hayes took a trip to the top of the town hall on Tuesday for an aerial view of the constituency.

But the 30-year-old, a barrister by trade, came back to earth when he spoke of the local issues on which he will be making a stand.

He said the New Towns Commission was setting industrial rents far too high and "chasing jobs out of Harlow".

POLICE PROBE HOLIDAY VOTE TRIP

POLICE are investigating Harlow Council's decision to bring back pensioners on holiday to vote at Thursday's General Election.

A Harlow ratepayer complained to the police after reading press stories that 300 pensioners on a council-sponsored holiday in Dovercourt would be brought home to vote if they wished. Under the Representation of the People Act 1883, it is illegal for a council to transport people to a polling station.

PARENTS' FURY OVER SCHOOL

A GROUP of Harlow parents say they are prepared to break the law in their fight to get their children places in the secondary school of their choice in September.

The 23 parents of children now being allocated to schools in Harlow are furious with the local education authority for refusing them the right to send their children to Stewards.

NEW PARKING FOR DISABLED

DISABLED drivers have been allocated a new parking area in the town centre. The new car park in West Square will enable disabled people to park close to the Harvey Centre.

he learned very quickly." Mr Chauhan, an only child who had lived with his mother in Harlow for the past seven years, was brought up in the Midlands. He had been working as a commis chef while studying to further his career in the catering industry.

A talented musician, he had taught himself to play the guitar, drums and keyboard and had recently discovered a love for photography.

Although an experienced canoeist, it is believed he started to struggle while attempting a manoeuvre known as "running the weir" while out kayaking with a friend at about 3.30pm on Monday.

His boat toppled in the fast-flowing water and, despite rescue attempts by the friend, a 30-year-old man also from Harlow, he failed to resurface.

Police and ambulance searched the water using underwater cameras and rescue boats.

One of Mr Chauhan's friends, who did not wish to be named, described him as "the best of the best", adding: "He was never afraid to show his love for everyone and ended every conversation to everyone with 'love you'. You'll be truly missed Sanjai and I love you back dude."

Michelle Catterick, who worked with Mr Chauhan for a few months last year left a tribute on the Star website. "He was the bubbliest guy that I have ever met. Every day he would enter with a smile and if you were feeling down he would make an extra effort to cheer you up."

"He was kind to everyone and didn't have a bad bone in him. He will be greatly missed. It really is true that only the good die young."

Another friend, Adam Clark, wrote: "He truly was one of the nicest people I have ever met, a genuine, funny and polite lad."

Labour fury at 'ban' from refuse talks

FURIOUS Labour councillors are claiming they were effectively banned from a key meeting on the future of refuse collection in the town.

They have accused Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson of showing a "flagrant disregard for democracy" after making clear that Edna Stevens, Labour's representative on the cross-party waste strategy working group, was not welcome at Thursday's briefing.

But Mr Johnson hit back by saying the move was necessary to prevent the Labour group from turning the council into a laughing stock.

The snub, which resulted in only Conservative and Liberal Democrat councillors being invited to the briefing along with council officers and potential contractors, follows weeks of campaigning for today's Harlow Common by-election during which Labour has focused heavily on the threat to weekly rubbish collections.

Labour hopes to hold on to the seat by opposing the introduction of wheeled bins and fortnightly rounds. But ruling Tories on the council say the stance represents a U-turn and is contrary to the views expressed by Mrs Stevens in working group meetings.

Labour group deputy leader Jean Clark said: "In all our years leading Harlow Council we never showed such a flagrant disregard for democracy."

By BEN WILKINSON, Chief Reporter
wilkinsonb@hertssexnews.co.uk

Apparently we are playing politics with the issue but I notice the Liberal Democrats were welcomed at the meeting."

But Mr Johnson said: "They've led this issue in one direction and now, because there's a by-election, done a complete about-face."

"I didn't ban Labour from the meeting, I just said there was no point in Edna attending because she doesn't share her group's view and that they should send someone else."

"If Labour want to make themselves look silly that's up to them but it's my responsibility as council leader to make sure they don't make the whole council look ridiculous."

This week Harlow MP Bill Rammell insisted maintaining weekly bin bag collections was "simply the right thing to do", adding: "Homes in Harlow just were not designed to store waste for longer than one week."

But his Conservative rival Robert Halfon said: "Until two weeks ago there had been complete unanimity on this. However, now that a by-election is near, Labour has decided to cut the ground from under Mrs Stevens and the Government with a campaign of disinformation."

The final contract for April 2009 onwards will be confirmed on July 8.

CARING FOR KEVIN:

Kevin Chapple with family and friends at Saturday's disco at Harlow Rugby Club

Family thank fundraisers for arson victim's therapy boost

THE mother of a young man seriously injured in an arson attack three years ago has thanked family and friends after a disco and raffle raised more than £1,000 for her son's ongoing treatment.

The money will go towards paying for speech therapy for Kevin Chapple (30), who was left with brain damage after the attack on his Harlow flat which claimed the life of his girlfriend Kerry Youngs.

Speaking after the fundraising disco and raffle at Harlow Rugby Club on Saturday night, Kevin's mum Marian said the money would cover 10 months of the specialist treatment.

"We pay for massage, acupuncture and speech therapy for Kevin each month and this is extremely important to him. Having fundraising events like the one on Saturday and ones held by his former employees and friends are really important in helping provide that care," she said.

"Kevin is doing really well. He has a fantastic sense of humour and he really enjoyed Saturday night. People have done so much for him and I would like to say thank you to everybody."

Kevin's aunt, Valerie Rees, of Rivermill, said she would like to thank all the businesses and people who donated raffle prizes as well as Kevin's friends Nathan Reed and Stuart Black and Harlow Rugby Club.

"It was a really good night and we are all really pleased with the way it went," she added.

Murder attempt accused in court

A HARLOW man has been charged with attempted murder following an incident in the town on Monday afternoon.

Peter Lefort (40), of Northbrooks, appeared before Harlow magistrates yesterday (Wednesday) after being charged by police on Tuesday.

He was arrested following an incident in Northbrooks at about 2.45pm on Monday in which a 44-year-old man sustained stab wounds to his back and neck.

College rocked by poor results

PRINCIPAL Colin Hindmarch this week defended the latest poor results at Harlow College – despite almost one-third of exams taken marked as ungraded.

The latest detailed results for last winter's A-level modular exams also reveal a shocking 100 per cent of A2 advanced maths students received the U grade.

The breakdown of results follows the Star revelation in March that the overall pass rates of AS modules had dropped by nine per cent while A2 pass rates had remained the same as 2007.

At the time, chairman of governors Martin Coleman said the board was "pleased with the way things are going".

But the latest figures – which also show A-C grades in A2 exams fell by six per cent to 33 per cent and pass rates for AS students had dropped by nine per cent to 58 per cent since 2007 – put further pressure on Mr Hindmarch, who has faced criticism since upwards of 79 tutors were either made redundant or left their posts last year due to changes made during the implementation of his teaching and learning strategy.

The principal has vehemently defended the changes and this week again claimed the strategy was intended to be introduced gradually. However, he said the college was left with problems due to the unexpectedly high level of staff lost.

"Of course we are addressing it and have been all year, as we know what the issues are, but we have been waiting until the results came out to know exactly what to do," said Mr Hindmarch on Tuesday.

He said he was "more than confident" the next overall results will show the college is improving.

He also pointed to the areas where results have improved, such as English language modules, and that the number of students being retained by the college was the highest ever.

When asked during a meeting whether the college was relying on spin to mask possible failures, deputy principal Pat Hay suggested that "all organisations tried to show figures in the best possible light" while Mr Hindmarch appeared adamant they had been both honest and open at all times.

He sings, he scores!

HARLOW Town goalie Michael Dumoulin has sung his way to the televised rounds of The X-Factor.

The 19-year-old will go before the judges tomorrow (Friday) and said on his team's website: "I'm overwhelmed to get this far, and it's an honour to go in front of Simon Cowell. I'm not scared of Simon at all – I'd be interested to hear his feedback."

Hawks players and staff have been invited to his latest audition – the third so far – at which he will perform Van Morrison's Moondance. The audition could be aired when the show goes out on ITV later this summer.

deprivation levels.

Only last year, Stewards was described by Ofsted inspectors as "a good school with outstanding features". Headteacher Rhonda Murthar slated the Government move, contrasting it with a recent survey of parents which showed a 99 per cent satisfaction rate.

"This is without question an excellent school," she said. "We work in an area where there is some social deprivation and we have won awards for how our students progress while they are here."

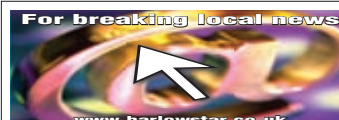

Mr Rammell said although school results had improved in Harlow in the past decade, the Government was right to strive for further progress.

"I am confident that, based on current improvements, both Stewards and Mark Hall will rise above the national challenge of 30 per cent A*-C pass rate, including English and maths, by 2011," he said.

But Conservative opponent Robert Halfon claimed Government intervention had caused many of the problems: "One of the things teachers say again and again is that they can't do their jobs because every five minutes the Government is bringing in a new scheme or initiative."

Harlow Education Consortium director Jon O'Connor said local results reflected disadvantage in the town but felt raising people's aspirations would help schools to continue improving.

Stop our gardens falling into ditch

By BEN WILKINSON
Chief Reporter
wilkinsonb@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MAJOR subsidence is causing the gardens of more than 30 homes to collapse into a huge ditch.

Householders living in the properties in Woodcroft, Abbotsweld and Kingsland, Harlow, have lost as much as 1.83m (6ft) from the gardens while fence panels, posts and smashed remains of brick walls litter the ditch bank as evidence of the problem.

But one resident said that, despite a four-year campaign, they have been offered no help or support by Harlow Council.

Philip Bowles, of Woodcroft, claimed his approaches to local councillors have been ignored and said his neighbours have also been "fobbed off", despite what he believes is a legal responsibility on the part of the council.

The ditch was originally a brook which drained water from the south of the town towards Toddbrook and into the River Stort. But it has been dry since the 1960s and it is believed the roots of mature trees have spread as a result, causing the land to become unstable.

"Many residents have had similar problems, some dating back to the mid 1980s," said Mr Bowles. "Several have lost garden walls or fences to the ravine while others have voluntarily moved their fences back."

"One resident was told that as his land was falling on to the council's it was his problem, which is factually incorrect in law. Another was told "if you have the money, sue us".

Mr Bowles accused the council of adopting a cavalier attitude towards the residents and treating their complaints with contempt. He said he was still waiting for a response to a letter he had written to the chief executive regarding the issue.

"The information I have gleaned, coupled with my own experience, shows a long-standing two-fingers-up attitude by the council," he added.

A Harlow Council spokesman told the Star its officers were still investigating the problem and had sought technical advice.

"Once the council has completed the investigations it will be able to assess legal liabilities for any possible repair work," he added. "The council has stated that it may seek a contribution towards the costs of any work from the adjoining homeowners."

Team strikes lucky with pitch for baseball cash

YOUNGSTERS in one area of Harlow have struck lucky after securing cash to provide a baseball diamond.

The facility has been created at Northbrooks Recreation Ground for the Harlow Greensox which received £93,000 from Barclays as part of the bank's £30m project aimed at improving sport facilities in the UK.

The Greensox, which was set up in 2005, can now put their skills to good use on the site which includes a backstop fence, safety cages for players, a clay diamond, pitcher's mound and an improved grass outfield.

The project was managed by environmental regeneration charity Groundwork

Hertfordshire and the land was provided by Harlow Council Greensox head coach Albert Hobdell, who is also chairman of Harlow Neighbourhood Watch, said: "Before Groundwork and Barclays came to our assistance we were moving from here to there setting up practice sessions wherever we could."

"Now we are able to get down to recruitment and concentrating on this wonderful game."

Bus company under fire for route change

BUS users are angry that changes to the Harlow to Romford route could force them to spend two-and-a-half hours to travel just 20 miles.

Bus operator Arriva has confirmed alterations to the 500 service which come into force next month will see buses terminate at Ongar, leaving passengers having to find alternative routes to Romford.

The company blames spiraling fuel costs and a reduction in the level of reimbursement for journeys made by customers using London travel cards.

But Les Coben, chairman of the Harlow Pensioners' Action Association, accused Arriva of putting profit before people. "I know it's a private company but they are running a public service and should be held to account for not providing that service to the people who rely on it."

Pensioner Dorothy Percival, of Great Brays, Harlow, said: "I find this completely unacceptable. It is always a very busy service and it gets us Harlow residents out of town to visit a decent market."

Harlow MP Bill Rammell said he was disappointed by the decision and the HPA has started a petition against the changes. Anyone wanting to sign it can do so at the Age Concern office in The Rows from tomorrow (Friday).

An Arriva spokeswoman apologised for the inconvenience but said it had warned Essex County Council and Transport for London of the changes and that it was up to either authority to provide an alternative service.

No time to loos for new arrival!

By JIM TANFIELD
tanfieldj@hertssexnews.co.uk

IT was a far from typical head-wetting for a newborn in Harlow when his first look at the world was from the inside of a toilet bowl.

Christopher Nicola was born at home in The Dashes two weeks early when mum Kimberly (22) had her waters break while on the toilet last Monday evening.

The whole labour happened so quickly that baby Christopher fell into the toilet bowl and had to be quickly rescued by his proud new mum.

Husband Paul (31) said: "One minute we are eating pizza in front of the television, the next the waters have broken and three minutes later there was a baby!"

"I was standing outside the door talking to the paramedics and trying to tell Kimberly what they were telling us to do."

"It was not a panic as there was really no time to think about it."

"The paramedics turned up really quickly after we called 999, about five minutes later, but it was all over by then."

He added: "They took both the baby and Kimberly to Princess Alexandra Hospital for a few nights where they kept him in the incubator and under watch.

"It was just precautionary, because after all he had just fallen into a toilet!"

After his brief stay in hospital,

Christopher – who weighed in at a healthy 7lb 2oz and is Kimberly's second child and Paul's third – was allowed to return home.

Kimberly said: "We are all fine, considering what happened. The whole family were brilliant, and were looked after really well."

Burglar steals funds given to charity voyage

DONATIONS to a children's charity were stolen during a burglary at a Harlow home.

The £200 had been donated by the family and friends of George Jepps, who is currently sailing from Plymouth to the Azores to raise funds for the Little Havens Children's Hospice because his grandson has a life-threatening heart condition.

The thieves struck between 2-4pm last Thursday, using a spade to smash a window at the rear of the property, in The Maples.

"It was in a charity envelope and was obviously charity money, so it's a horrible thing to do," said his wife Valerie, "particularly as the money was to help children."

"It was money we had collected from a couple of fundraising evenings with friends and family."

Anybody wishing to donate should do so via the website www.justgiving.com/georgejepps. Call police on 0300 333 4444 with information.

Drinks ban shop regains licence

A SHOP stripped of its licence to sell alcohol has made a pledge to check the ID of everyone who wants to buy booze regardless of their age.

The One Stop Convenience Store in The Stow struck the deal with Harlow Council moments before an appeal hearing was due to take place into the loss of the licence.

The shop was said to have failed a number of test purchases carried out by trading standards which resulted in the council revoking the licence last July.

However, the hearing was called off and the licence restored after the shop said it would only sell alcohol to people over 18 who can show valid proof of identity.

Peter Bourn, Harlow Council's safety and licensing manager said: "This is a ground-breaking offer that has been made. One Stop has committed itself to checking the ID of every single person who wishes to purchase alcohol irrespective of age. No ID, no sale."

Walk-In Centre to treat A&E patients

NEW arrangements which will see Harlow's NHS Walk-In Centre effectively merged with the accident and emergency department of Princess Alexandra Hospital come into effect next month.

The three-month pilot scheme, which will see all patients report to the hospital to be assessed and then referred either to casualty or to the Walk-In Centre in nearby Wych Elm, begins on July 1.

The link-up follows a public consultation in which residents were asked to express their preference for one of three options, two of which had already been ruled out by bosses at West Essex Primary Care Trust.

Trust spokesman Liz McGranahan said the changes, which will be reviewed in October, would make services better for patients and represent better use of NHS resources.

ST ALBAN'S PRIMARY: There were no frog legs, veal cheeks or foie gras being forced onto the children, just Continental fun at the school's annual Gallic celebration event.

French Day at the school included a history of the nation, its culture and, perhaps most importantly, its food.

Parents were invited into the hall to sample food being sold at the mock French market.

Teacher Romina Plava said: "Everybody had a brilliant time and it's a great day to get the Key Stage 2 children more interested in the culture of France as they began getting half-an-hour a week French tuition last year."

School on the ball for its first match

THE DOWNS PRIMARY:

A nine-goal thriller kicked off The Hides school's latest fixture.

The inaugural annual inter-school football match saw the home side beat LATTON GREEN PRIMARY by 6-3. Headteacher David Yeld said: "It was a lot closer than the score line suggests and both teams were scoring goals until the final whistle.

"Latton Green has had a close working relationship with us for many years now, so it was a fitting school to invite to play in the first fixture."

New skills for the next step

MARK HALL: A day at big school was enjoyed by primary school children from throughout the town.

As part of Year 5 gifted and talented day, pupils from eight of the town's primaries – POTTER STREET, SPINNEY JUNIOR, FAWBERT AND BARNARD, HARLOWBURY, HENRY MOORE, CHURCH LANGLEY, TANY'S DELL and CHURCHGATE – visited the First Avenue school to spend the day learning new skills.

From detailed research on the internet and facts about eating lunch in the secondary school environment to a fun mask-making session, the children acquired new skills to prepare them for their future education.

A school spokeswoman said: "Each of the children had a really enjoyable time and it is invaluable for them to experience the next level of their school careers."

'Queen' Hilda reaches her century

SPRIGHTLY Hilda Davis was the talk of the town when she celebrated her 100th year surrounded by family and friends.

The former Londoner celebrated the milestone with her six children and some of her 16 grandchildren, 28 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren at Harlow's Ashlyn care home last week.

Toasting Mrs Davis with a glass of bubbly, Ashlyn's activities co-ordinator Joan Snell paid tribute to her, saying: "Hilda is a joy to be around."

"Aside from some problems with her eyes, she is as fit as a fiddle and a great inspiration to us all. She may have received a telegram from Her Majesty, but Hilda is queen of our hearts."

Mrs Davis is pictured, left, with family and friends on the big day.

Police rebuke over yob logs

POLICE have criticised residents near a Harlow shopping centre for not helping themselves to prevent the area being overrun by a gang of youths.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoon@hertsexnews.co.uk

Officers handed out anti-social behaviour diaries to help them tackle the problem at The Stow, but only a handful have been filled in and returned.

Police and council chiefs were relying on information in the booklets to help act against the trouble-makers who have been intimidating shoppers and causing problems in the precinct for the past few weeks.

But despite 70 residents and businesses being given the diaries and instructions as to their use, just four have been filled in.

Specialist neighbourhood officer PC Karen Brimson said the logs could be helpful in securing a dispersal order for the area but added: "Only two residents and two businesses returned the diaries and that is disappointing."

"People in the area wanted us to help them but we have to have help from them as well and we need to know what is going on and at what time."

"When we turn up the kids have usually already run off. We are working with our multi-agency partners and with the schools to try and stop the problems and we are also looking to work with a few of the ringleaders, for want of a better word, but we need the residents to do their bit too."

"Some of the public have said it is becoming like a no-go zone and nearby residents no longer use the shops due to the large amount of youths hanging around."

"People might think it is too late to hand the diaries back in but it's not."

Humiliations of poor New Deal

SIR, I am writing to expose what I believe is the complacency and indifference that is rife within the New Deal service at Harlow Job Centre.

The staff there display total disinterest in actually helping people find gainful employment; instead, they prefer to humiliate clients and treat them with a common prejudiced contempt.

I have been unemployed since leaving university and have found it very difficult to find a job due to shyness and inexperience. They immediately assumed I was stupid and only fit to work in sales and retail. At no point did they meaningfully discuss my career options and one member of staff actually mocked me for saying that studying at university helps you to build a career.

I was then forced to embark on a humiliating 13-week course where I was asked questions on the correct spelling of 'buy' and what you need to add to seven to make 10. This was followed by a ridiculous and completely pointless pub quiz on 1960s pop music. We were also told we had to get into groups for a competition to see which team could collect the most application forms from the town centre. I realise that there are many people with numeracy and literacy difficulties but I am not one of those and I deeply resent this viciously condescending attitude.

I decided, not unreasonably, that this was not helping me find work at all. I then took the initiative to find a voluntary work placement with a local charity. Although it meant I would not receive any money, it would give me the valuable work experience I need and may help rebuild the shattering blows to my confidence that the Job Centre has dealt me. I succeeded in finding such a placement.

However, because of this, the Job Centre has chosen to punish me for taking such initiative by threatening to deprive me of my only means of support unless I stop working there and go back to the course! This demonstrates clearly that they are not at all interested in helping people find work. What exactly are they up to? Do they want to break me completely so they can just transfer me onto some kind of incapacity benefit? Is that how they meet their targets?

I consider that we should swap places and they endure the receiving end of such degrading treatment.

Referendum lie

SIR, Speaking in Old Harlow last week, David Cameron declared that an incoming Conservative administration would not grant a referendum on the Lisbon Constitutional Treaty if it had already been passed into law, despite previous promises to the contrary.

He now joins Gordon Brown, who reneged on Labour's manifesto promise to grant one, as someone who makes promises he cannot keep.

In June next year we have elections to the European Parliament and I urge all those who want politicians to keep their word to treat that election as the referendum they have been denied.

The UK Independence Party is the only party committed to disengage from the undemocratic and expensive experiment that is the European Union. This is the only way to make your voice heard.

Praise was due

SIR, Referring to Joan Swanton's letter (Letters, May 15), she says she was embarrassed to read the earlier letter 'Head is respected for so much more'. I thought it was a fitting tribute to Mr Goddard.

Bins change will blight area

SIR, I have just returned from visiting my parents in Liverpool where fortnightly refuse collections were introduced some time ago. Your correspondent who wrote about the visual impact of huge wheeled bins outside homes (Letters, June 5) was absolutely correct; it is a horrible sight.

Approaching the city from the main motorways, the visitor is greeted by a long straight road of orderly houses with pleasant gardens, trees and grassed central reservations. This is blighted by the appearance of huge, ugly multi-coloured bins parked outside each home.

For some reason, the choice of colour for the non-recyclable bin is a hideous shade of bright purple; the mixture of greenery and this colour is quite nauseating. The three bins provided are huge, regardless of the size of the household, and have to be placed outside the front gardens on collection day or the refuse is not collected. In warm weather, walking along pavements in any part of the city on collection day is hazardous, unpleasant and smelly. Both of my parents are elderly and frail and moving these monstrosities is difficult for them. Cleaning them is impossible unless you are tall and strong!

Where once the collection and storage of rubbish was a simple procedure requiring little or no thought, it is now a full-scale operation for the householder with schedules to refer to, rules as to what goes where and fines for making mistakes. Another stressful burden for everyone but particularly for older citizens.

This is a fine example of the trend for public servants to become our masters! I moved into my present home in Harlow 27 years ago and until recently the estate was a neat and pretty place to walk about with its green spaces, trees and tidy little front gardens. I wasn't aware of anyone's rubbish as it was inside the dustbin in the brick-built store, with the occasional black bag on top. Now it is a landscape of horrible blue boxes, overflowing open bags of plastic and paper waste and, recently, large wheeled bins. After collection, it is a scene of devastation with boxes, lids and white bags scattered in all directions and scraps of paper strewn all along the pavements. Recently, we have become home to a growing population of feral cats and urban foxes, attracted no doubt by the prospect of a free feed from the ripped bags left on the garden boundaries. It is impossible to store this refuse at the rear of the house as the only access to the front is through the house.

To refer back to Liverpool, I am at present researching its social history. There was much squalor and filthy living conditions up to the mid-20th century, with many diseases, including cholera, spread by vermin attracted by the refuse which surrounded the homes of the residents. Indeed, I have a photograph from about 1918 showing mothers with babies in arms sitting on the steps at the front of their homes next to an overflowing dustbin. These conditions prevailed until the local council instigated regular cleansing and refuse collection.

One can explain the squalid living conditions of those days as being in some part due to ignorance of basic hygiene. It appears to me a retrograde step to introduce a refuse collection scheme today which will once again mean people living surrounded by their rotting refuse for two weeks at a time!

Incidentally, I have spent quite some time in Spain in the past few years, where refuse is collected at least once a day, sometimes twice, including the collection of unwanted household items, tree branches, old car parts, etc.

Everything unwanted is put into a skip overnight and cleared early the following morning. The streets are also washed at the same time.

In the part of the estate where I live, the only time the street outside my home has ever been washed is when I've taken a hosepipe to it. Perhaps our council ought to take a trip to other places to see how it's done!

Cath Lamb

patients would be utterly stupid. The site is the obvious and only practical location for this new hospital. It was specially chosen as the emergency hospital for the M11 and M25 when they were planned and built. That is why the motorways' emergency accesses were placed where they are, near Hobbs Cross. From there, they have an unimpeded route to St Margaret's. That reasoning is even more apposite today. The huge expansion planned for Stansted, together with the effects of the East of England Plan, will produce a colossal number of extra people using those motorways. There is plenty of alternative land for housing development in the general area.

On the question of affordability, the level of compensation should be simply a matter of repaying to the new owners more or less what they paid for the site, since no actual density figure was included in the original outline permission and, according to EFDC's planning department, there were then no relevant Government minimum density guidelines.

Who to believe?

SIR, Regarding Barbara Levine's letter (Letters, May 29), about the 59 bus to Chelmsford; this is all to do with the change made when national free bus travel for people over 60 was brought in on April 1, 2008.

Previous to that in the Harlow area, free travel was from 9am Monday to Friday; it was changed to 9.30am. Most of the country had this time but some areas still have 9am, for instance, Braintree, Maldon and Brentwood in Essex.

A lot of people, including me, liked to use the 59 service that started from the Harlow Bus Station at 9.15am to get an early start to go to Chelmsford, as it has connections with other buses to Colchester, Maldon, Burnham, Basildon and Southend. Since the change to 9.30am, a lot of people have had to catch the 10.15am service, which often gets very full.

But it is possible to buy a single ticket on the earlier one to Sheering as the 59 is due to arrive there at 9.30am. From there, bus pass users can have free travel to Chelmsford as it is after 9.30am.

It's a pity that Harlow Council will not change the start time back to 9am as this inconveniences a lot of people. I presume that either they cannot be bothered or that it will cost them money. Yet we have been told by the Government that they have funded this service. Who are we to believe? Once again the users are caught in the middle.

Geoffrey Tyrell
Windmill Fields, Harlow

SIR, Only my friend Kevin McGrath knows why he has to be in Chelmsford by 10am, but one thing is certain – he will be going to Sheering because that is the way the No 59 bus gets to Chelmsford. I would suggest that a bus timetable would make things even more simple for Barbara Levine.

Sold off short

SIR, Are people of Harlow aware we don't even own our own Town Hall these days?

On May 31, I was doing my democratic bit in what was once called Atlee Square, back of the library. Suddenly I was informed neither giving out leaflets nor selling non-profit journals was permitted on private property.

I was going to go round to our Civic Centre. That's also on private land. The Water Gardens is a private estate, with its own security system. Democracy ends at the library in our town centre. It made me shudder to think of what other damage to our town the council has done.

I'd like to hear others' views on this question. Could we campaign to reclaim our own town centre? Regain democratic rights throughout! Who are the Water Gardens answerable to?

The race to be US President

AMERICA could soon have its first black president after Barack Obama, pictured below, won the race to become the Democratic Party candidate.

Mr Obama has been battling it out with Hillary Clinton, the wife of former US President Bill Clinton, for the votes which would secure his place as the man challenging the ruling Republican Party at the presidential election in November.

Last week he told cheering crowds of supporters that he had got more support from party members than his rival.

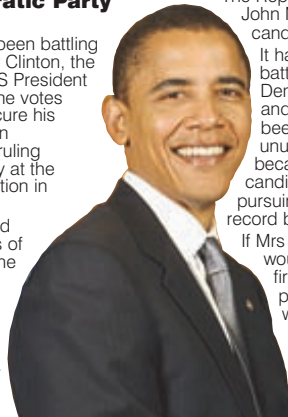

Mr Obama made his victory speech on the last day of the primaries – local elections where supporters of political parties choose the candidate they want to represent their party in the presidential election.

The Republican Party picked John McCain as their candidate months ago.

It has been a close-run battle between the two Democrat candidates and the competition has been particularly unusual this time round because both candidates have been pursuing a place in the record books.

If Mrs Clinton had won she would have been the first ever female presidential nominee while Mr Obama will now make history by becoming the first black candidate to stand for the office of president.

Chairman's support for young crime victims

A YEAR of fundraising for charity got under way when the new chairman of Harlow Council, Tony Hall, met with representatives of his chosen cause.

Mr Hall, a retired policeman, nominated Child Victims of Crime as his charity for the year and last Wednesday he discussed his plans with Essex representative PC Diane Murphy and Chief Inspector Mike Martin of Harlow police.

The goal of CVOC is to support youngsters who have been a victim of, or traumatised by, any criminal offence. The children helped are nominated by police officers.

Mr Hall said: "Individual officers who have been working with the children are in a unique position to make these nominations."

"Having worked with the children, they understand the pain and suffering that these innocent victims are going through and can often suggest the best way to put a little bit of fun and normality back into their lives."

Cash windfall for neighbour teams

DEVELOPING safer communities is the aim of Essex Police as it prepares to celebrate the work of the county's Neighbourhood Watch teams.

National Neighbourhood Watch and Home Watch Week begins on Monday and £5,000 has been allocated by the county force to each policing district – including Harlow – to support the work of the voluntary organisation.

Essex boasts several hundred Neighbourhood Watch groups with more than 5,000 volunteers keeping them running. It is thought that around 40 per cent of the county's properties are covered by a scheme, all of which aim to cut local crime and foster a neighbourly spirit among residents.

Harlow has an active scheme chaired by Sycamore Field resident Albert Hobdell. It holds regular meetings on crime and policing issues.

Inspector Scott Egerton, head of neighbourhood policing for the Essex force, said: "Neighbourhood Watch is an important partner with whom our policing teams work to address community priorities, including the reduction and prevention of crime and anti-social behaviour.

"We share goals and objectives and we are keen for this money, which adds up to £70,000 across the county, to be used to help develop their projects and the cost of administration."

Alan Johnson, spokesman for the county's Neighbourhood Watch schemes, said: "During Neighbourhood Watch and Home Watch Week we want to encourage more people to get involved as we are always looking for volunteers. They can give as much time as they are able to."

To get involved with Neighbourhood Watch in Harlow, call Mr Hobdell on (01279) 413485 or contact a local neighbourhood policing team officer. Details can also be found at www.essex.police.uk/yourarea.

Moore tour for U3A's art group

ART lovers from Harlow's newly-formed University of the Third Age got an insight into the work of sculptor Henry Moore during a visit to his former home in Perry Green.

The group's art appreciation group toured the grounds of the estate near Much Hadham which include several large-scale works by Moore, whose name is synonymous with Harlow new town.

They also looked around his old house and saw paintings and African carvings which inspired Moore's work.

Spokeswoman Margaret Jowett said: "We were most impressed by the scale and scope of many sculptures on view. In many of the photos taken by members, the group is dwarfed by the sculpture in front of which they are standing!"

For more information about the U3A's wide-ranging activities and special interest groups, call (01279) 410360.

Donor champion

REGULAR blood donor Beryl Whippy has been presented with an engraved crystal decanter after notching up her 100th pint.

Beryl, of West Road, Sawbridgeworth, was one of 68 dedicated donors who were honoured at a recent ceremony. National Blood Service spokesman Gareth Bell said: "Only four per cent of people who could give blood actually do and, of that minority, only a handful will ever reach such momentous landmarks."

"It is a great honour for me and everyone at the service to be able to recognise the achievements of these people in some small way. We will never truly be able to repay them for all they have done."

Blood donor sessions take place today (Thursday) and again on Thursday, June 26 at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way, Harlow from 2-4pm and 5-7.45pm. Call 08457 711711 for more details.

Stocking up

DONATIONS of clothing, bric-a-brac, blankets and other items are required by Harlow Salvation Army Corps to help stock its weekly Tuesday morning sales at the Tendring Road citadel from 9-11am. For more information call (01279) 441581 or 426196.

Charity cash

CHRISTIAN Aid Week saw more than £430 raised in a collection at Sainsbury's store in Fifth Avenue, Harlow. The funds will support projects in more than 50 countries.

Rainbows gift

RAINBOWS in Church Langley presented a cheque for £330 which raised as part of their 10th anniversary celebrations to Little Havens Children's Hospice. Staff from the hospice also gave a talk to the girls about their work. For more information about joining the Rainbows, call Valerie Murphy on 07831 153857.

Bakers' bash

A SHELTERED almshouse for retired bakers celebrates its 150th anniversary with a family open day.

The Bakers' Benevolent Society, which is based at the Bakers' Villas in Bakers Lane, Epping, is hosting the event on Sunday from 1pm. It will include live music, handicrafts, a barbecue and children's bouncy castle.

Carers' day out

MORE than 500 young Essex carers and their families enjoyed a special day out to the coast as part of National Carers' Week.

The trip, organised by Essex County Council on Sunday, gave young people who devote their lives to caring for relatives the chance to enjoy themselves in Southend-on-Sea.

Simon Walsh, ECC cabinet member for schools, children and families, said: "Nobody deserves an opportunity to let their hair down more than these carers. Many families would struggle without the dedicated efforts of these young people and we all owe them a huge debt of gratitude."

Ramble on

RAMBLERS can enjoy a midsummer's tide walk organised by North Weald Bassett Rural Preservation Society next Friday. The starting point is North Weald Village Hall at 7pm and the walk will finish at the Green Man, Toot Hill.

A local company can help any home owners who may have the threat of bailiffs or repossession hanging over them.

Housebought4cash.com will buy your property in 7 days or less allowing you to avoid repossession, repay your mortgage and clear any arrears. Acting early could leave you with cash and a clear credit record, allowing you to carry on living as normal without the stress.

For property owners in serious mortgage arrears or facing repossession, estate agents have a limited choice of options to offer those that need to move quickly.

Housebought4cash.com can help - give them a call on 0871 288 4740 today. They will give you a fair offer for your property in as little as 48 hours.

Fast Cash For Your Property

IF you need to sell your home quickly you should really speak to housebought4cash.com.

They act discreetly and no sale board will appear outside of your home. There are many different reasons why you may wish to sell your home quickly. Respect for individual circumstances is absolutely important when dealing with sensitive financial matters.

You can visit their website at www.housebought4cash.com and get a guaranteed offer within 48 hours.

You can use your mouse to sell your house!

SELL YOUR HOME AND RENT IT BACK

Fast property sale could mean less stress for you

Good move...sometimes a quick cash sale can help people to get back on their feet.

By JOHN SMITH

STRUGGLING to make ends meet or make money last to the end of the month? Are you slipping further into debt?

Recent years have seen more and more families slide into debt and often it can seem that there is no way out of the problem.

A local company believes that it has the answer to many homeowners that may find themselves in this very difficult and stressful situation. Housebought4cash.com can also help you stop slipping further into debt by releasing money for you from your property. You can pay off outstanding bills and secure your financial future. They guarantee to make an offer to buy your property, whether it is residential or commercial, regardless of its condition or location.

Free of Charge

The company will assess your situation and value your property free of charge. They will then present you with a range of options which meet your requirements.

It may be possible that you want to stay in your current house as a tenant. All rent-back plans are at market prices and are handled discreetly so that nobody, including your neighbours need never know. No 'For Sale' sign will appear outside of your home.

You can make a smart move today and visit their website at www.housebought4cash.com or you can call them on 0871 288 4740 for free advice on a stress-free future. Remember, they will make a cash offer within 48 hours.

DIFFICULT DIVORCE OR SEPARATION?

IT is a sad fact that divorce and selling your home are two of the most stressful times in our lives. Having to deal with the breakdown, the financial settlement and the upsets all at the same time is even more difficult to cope with.

A local business, Housebought4cash.com, believes it offers the ideal solution to couples who find themselves going through this often traumatic time. Indeed they have helped many people for over 10 years in similar situations. There are many different personal circumstances during a divorce or separation, and often you may be choosing to sell your home.

You may want a quick sale to move away from the area or perhaps you want to free up your cash and stay in your house. Housebought4cash.com guarantees that it will make an offer within 48 hours of an enquiry and can complete within 7 days. This will allow you a fast and easy way of paying any outstanding debts or mortgage, and reach a quick financial arrangement. They will help you find the right solution, whether you want to move away and make a fresh start or stay in your home.

Relief

Mr. M from Cheshunt used the services of housebought4cash.com when faced with an extremely difficult and stressful time. "I purchased a property for development and was in the middle of refurbishing it when my relationship broke down. At the time when the house looked a total mess, I have to say I thought it impossible to sell it on the open market. I then noticed your advertisement in a local free paper and within 48 hours had agreed to sell my property to housebought4cash.com. What a relief."

Housebought4cash.com will make a swift offer for your property and handle all aspects of the sale ensuring an easy and simple completion. The sale proceeds will clear your mortgage and joined debts, and the balance divided between the two of you allowing you to go your own separate ways. They also offer a quick purchase and a rent back option allowing one of you both of you to stay in your home and to keep your family settled.

You can make a smart move today and visit their website at www.housebought4cash.com or you can call them on 0871 288 4740 for free advice on a stress-free future.

Remember, they will make a cash offer within 48 hours.

Why not visit their website at www.housebought4cash.com?

Budding entrepreneurs

BUDDING entrepreneurs from Harlow battled it out after being chosen to take part in the West Area Company of the Year Award. Pupils from St Mark's School went head-to-head with others at Saffron Walden County High School to compete for the prize. The students have worked since September 2007 setting up and running their own companies and were given the chance to see whose was the best when they met industry volunteers, parents, local VIPs and judges last week.

Students had already submitted a company report to enter. During the contest, at GlaxoSmithKline and organised by Young Enterprise East England, they set up a stand, gave a presentation and were interviewed.

The overall Best Company prize went to Saffron Walden's Crocus Creations, which will now take part in the Essex County Company of the Year Competition. They will be joined by St Mark's School's Cloud 9, which won the wild card entry.

Club leavers get cab waiting area

LATE-night revellers used to hanging around in the street for a lift home can now wait in comfort after two nightclubs and a cab firm joined forces.

Quattroz and Liquid, in Harlow town centre, will be offering customers a cup of tea and a bite to eat in their VIP areas while they await the arrival of an A & Bee Cars cab.

As part of the HomeSafe initiative, they will also be escorted to their vehicle by security staff.

The idea has won the approval of both police and Harlow Council and was thought up following the death of Mark White, who lost his life after an alleged altercation over a cab outside Quattroz in March.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Steve Ponton, manager of A & Bee Cars, said: "After Mark's death the managers of Liquid and Quattroz gave me a call to see what we could do about making sure waiting for a cab is safer and we came up with the HomeSafe idea.

"There are a lot of people waiting for cabs at night on the streets outside the clubs and sometimes they can't see their cab or they go up to one to ask if it is theirs and are told it's not and have to walk back to where they have been standing.

"We just thought if we gave people the chance to wait somewhere nice and warm and give them a cup of tea and a bacon sandwich to keep them there until their cab arrives then there will be fewer people waiting on the street and hopefully this will stop any trouble."

The free scheme will run two pick-up points, one outside Quattroz in Post Office Road and one near Liquid in North Gate.

Nas Mal, manager of Liquid, said the scheme would also help with dispersal policies for both the clubs.

"It will stop us having hundreds of people standing outside once we have closed," he said. "Our ultimate goal is to make Harlow a safe place to go out and go clubbing."

Hannah Stuart of Quattroz added: "I have stood outside waiting for a cab many times and I have never felt really safe.

"This will hopefully go a long way to preventing a lot of the problems and nuisance which goes on."

Gateway project picks up an award for developer Barratt

A HOUSEBUILDER working on the Gateway development in Fifth Avenue, Harlow, has received a national award for excellence.

Barratt North London was presented with the accolade at the national Considerate Constructors Scheme 2008 Awards after being deemed among the crème de la crème for delivering high standards. Of the 6,500 eligible sites around the UK, only 472 were selected for an award and just 7.4 per cent of these went to private housebuilders.

Judges thought the Gateway development was worthy of a prize because of attention to detail in a number of areas including environmental concern and cleanliness.

Ron Storer, vice president of the Federation of Master Builders, presented the bronze award to site manager

Glyn Hopping, managing director of Barratt North London, said: "We were delighted to be recognised by the Considerate Constructor scheme.

"This is the second time we have received an award and we will continue to maintain best working practices at all of our developments."

Brutally honest tale of modern love and lust

THE scatological drama of Patrick Marber receives another outing courtesy of Harlow Theatre Company in the form of his big screen success Closer.

The story of the interweaving lives of two couples questioning the very meaning of love, lust and monogamy goes up at Old Harlow's Victoria Hall Theatre, in Bury Road, next Thursday.

Three seasons ago, director Paul Johnson produced Marber's first play Dealer's Choice and, despite 23 actors going for the four main parts, two of the original cast members – Ian Attfield and Steve Hannam – have again shone through.

"Sure, the language is coarse and there are shocking elements, but it's all in context and part of its strength," said Paul. "I love Marber's language as it's very brutal and honest. All four of the main characters are fantastic and following on from the success of the last two productions, Rebecca and Hay Fever, it is great testament to our theatre."

The play runs next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8pm and tickets are £7.50 (£6 concs) from (01279) 420062.

Makin' Steps, Latton Hall, Harlow

MAKIN' Steps made a spectacular return to performing on home territory with Back 2 Basics.

In a show that was anything but basic, 120 talented young dancers manoeuvred their way to and from the stage with ease and proficiency, dancing with energy, enthusiasm and sheer commitment as a packed programme provided a parade of slickly choreographed numbers.

Wave after wave of perfectly co-ordinated performers never failed to please, whether paying tribute to popular artists such as Britney Spears and J-Lo, jumping and spinning their way through the domestic chores of Work It Out or tapping to the beat of Spice Up Your Life.

They paid tribute to earlier eras with Rock 'n' Roll and Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy, tapped with attitude in Air and gracefully conveyed the romantic sentiments of Lost.

The brilliantly choreographed and costumed Joseph provided an ever-changing kaleidoscope of colours and brought the entire company to the stage for the first of three great finales.

This was a programme filled with variety from ballet to R&B, from boogie woogie to Beyonce, and the dancers excelled, from the very youngest to the experienced seniors.

The production distinguished itself with its flare for showmanship, imaginative costuming and first rate lighting, but above all it was a celebration of the talents of its young performers.

MAKIN' Steps also welcomed three icons of pop choreography to a workshop attended by a crowd of enthusiastic dance fans. Nick Bass and Kenny Wormald, who between them have notched up credits with the biggest names in pop including Justin Timberlake, visited the centre to teach routines and techniques to their star-struck audience. Among the routines taught was The Pussycat Dolls' latest video.

In a surprise visit, Mariah Carey choreographer Misha Gabriel turned up to join his fellow American dancers.

Makin' Steps founder Margaret Wright said: "It was three icons for the price of two; it was a fantastic treat."

"There was some great dancing going on, once the girls in the front row had stopped drooling."

arts diary

ART The Gibberd Gallery's Open Exhibition continues at the Civic Centre until June 28 and is free to view. All 40 of the exhibits by local artists were handpicked from a list of hundreds.

MUSIC Two favourites return to perform at Harlow Music Society next Thursday at the GPCA, in Abercrombie Way, from 8pm. Rachel and Ken Bartels – harp and flute – will be lulling the crowds with a varied programme. Tickets for non-members are £5.50 from (01279) 302115.

DRAMA Phoenix Theatre Arts has cancelled its presentation of After The End from tonight (Thursday) at The Playhouse.

STAGE The silver anniversary of Spotlight Theatre School sees the students putting on a spectacular show of drama and dance at The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday. Tickets for Step Into The Spotlight are £12 (£10 concs) from (01279) 431945.

BALLET Ballet First presents In Sync II at The Playhouse on Saturday (7pm) and Sunday (2pm). Tickets costing £10 (£8 concs) are available from (01279) 431945.

DRAMA The Tempest, William Shakespeare's tale of magic and mortality, is being staged at Epping's Copped Hall on Sunday at 4pm. The Greek Theatre Players' production takes place in the gardens behind the Palladian manor and tickets for the event are £10, available at the gate or by calling (01992) 610713.

DRAMA Arts group Figur'd Shade's next production takes place on Sunday week at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre, off Market Street, Old Harlow, at 5.30pm. Ladies Who Lens follows the lives of a female photographer and an astronomer and their own form of escapism. Tickets are £12 (£10 concs) from (01279) 442447.

Green, mean smashing machine erupts again

HOT on the rocket-boasted heels of Iron Man and pre-empting the imminent return of The Dark Knight, the not-so-jolly green giant is back – bigger, badder and angrier than ever.

A change in director – Louis Letterier replaces Ang Lee – also sees a change in leading man, with Edward Norton taking over from Eric Bana as volatile scientist Bruce Banner, giving the franchise a fresh makeover and providing a welcome change from the rather po-faced, action-light original.

Desperately scouring the four corners of the globe for a cure to his increasingly short fuse, Banner is captured in Mongolia by a unit of US commandos under orders to return him for use in a programme to develop super soldiers. Kept under sedation by his captors until they manage to extract his warped DNA, he inevitably becomes a bit miffed – we all know what happens when he's angry – and soon breaks out to journey home to New York. But unbeknown to him, General 'Thunderbolt' Ross (William Hurt) and his military scientists have been rather busy with his stolen genes, using them to create their own monster of incredible strength, size and power – The Abomination – using the distinctly un-hulking frame of Tim Roth's ice-cool soldier Emil Blonsky as his host.

Whereas Ang Lee's Hulk took itself far too

GREEN AGENDA: Top, the Hulk confronts soldier Emil Blonsky (Tim Roth) and, above, Ed Norton as the emotionally volatile Dr Bruce Banner in THE INCREDIBLE HULK (s)

seriously by concentrating on Banner's angst and parental issues at the expense of the action scenes for which the fans laid down their money, this reboot is a much more pleasing beast, significantly ramping up the action and the Hulk-outs until Banner and Blonsky come face to face for a colossal last reel smackdown.

IT'S make or break time for writer/director M Night Shyamalan, whose follow up to 2006's turgid The Lady In The Water has arrived with the usual fanfare of hyperbole – but will this be yet another case of studied style over substance?

As usual, the promotional campaign is self-consciously enigmatic, as is the film's title, but suffice to say this is a slice of post-9/11 apocalyptic paranoia, served up with a not-so-friendly green sting in its tail.

Mark Wahlberg plays Elliot Moore, an unhappily married dad and high school science teacher with a class of bright, attentive students and a comfortable life in a rural arcadia.

But when people inexplicably start killing themselves in increasingly gruesome ways, Moore takes it upon himself to find out why – but not before dragging his estranged wife, Alma (Zoey Deschanel), and a colleague's precocious young daughter, Jess (Ashlyn Sanchez), off on a desperate cross-country dash to elude the spreading epidemic.

Encountering a barren, empty landscape of evacuated towns and abandoned homes, the three become more and more desperate as they begin to realise the terrifying extent of the cataclysmic "happening" – and that it has its roots firmly in the natural world.

sound check with Chris Moss

ALTHOUGH they've long been stalwarts of the local live circuit, this jaunty post-punk five piece still sound as fresh and vital as the momentous day they opened Fire! Fire! on an unsuspecting public and captivated their musical conscience with stop/start staccato hooks, impossibly bouncy basslines and a fabulous array of endearingly dodgy haircuts.

Why the record companies continue to turn a blind eye to this lot, gawd only knows, but that's no reason for you to ignore their insanely infectious new wave blowouts; all angled, geometrically precise riffery à la Foals, but executed with a wry wink and a cheeky smile.

They may have recently toured the States to try their luck with audiences across the pond, but they've still found time to visit shy, humble Harlow tomorrow (Friday) night, where they play Quattro at 8pm, so get down there and show your appreciation.

CD reviews by Ben Wilkinson

INDESTRUCTIBLE

Disturbed (album, Reprise)

Now on their fourth album, if you don't know what to expect from this Chicago four-piece by now then the name of the band, title of the record and amusingly stereotypical sleeve picture should give you a reasonable idea. This time, though, the record is self-produced and they claim to have both grown up – with politically motivated lyrics over the pummelling riffs – and gone back to their roots, with frontman David Draiman reprising the rapid-fire delivery of his younger days. Still, you either like this stuff or find it an ear-shattering racket – and you know which you are.

THIS IS ALPHABEAT

Alphabeat (album, Charisma)

On a rather different note, here's a record Time Out described as suggesting "Dexy's Midnight Runners performing Footloose for children on a Haven holiday." The trouble is that however much, in an effort to save your credibility, you might want to hate this dangerously High School Musical-esque cheesy Danish pop, there's something resolutely and intensely loveable about its inanely catchy melodies. It doesn't break down any barriers, but it does resurrect a

SUPERHERO MOVIE. Another couple of hours of fart gags, where's-me-trousers nudity and interminably dull send-ups of your favourite superheroes in this typically lame effort from the moronic frat boys behind the abysmal Scary Movie franchise.

PROM NIGHT. Dull slasher remake that will ultimately have you cheering on the psycho as he takes out a bunch of insanely irritating prom queens; this also suffers hugely from its prohibitive 15-rating, which limits the amount of gore allowed on screen.

SEX AND THE CITY: THE MOVIE. The fabulous foursome hit the big time after a heavenly four-year break from our TV screens, and predictably spend two-and-a-half hours shopping for shoes, indulging in casual sex and drinking expensive cocktails to make up for it.

INDIANA JONES AND THE KINGDOM OF THE CRYSTAL SKULL. The man in the hat is back for another whip-snapping, wise-cracking adventure as he takes on the Russians at the height of the Cold War in a race to retrieve an ancient artefact said to have supernatural powers.

THE WATER HORSE. A lonely boy discovers a mysterious egg that hatches into a sea creature bearing a striking resemblance to Nessie herself in this superior children's fantasy adventure.

PENELOPE. A modern romantic fable about an eligible young heiress born with the hideous nose of a pig (no, really) who can only have her bizarre curse lifted by finding someone who will love her regardless of her deformity.

ALVIN & THE CHIPMUNKS. A struggling musician spots his route into super-stardom when three singing chipmunks come to live with him – rebellious leader Alvin, tiresome brainiac Simon and loveably chubby Theodore – in this enjoyable CG update of the popular kids' cartoon.

Harrowing night of shock and awe

CLOVERFIELD

(Paramount Home Entertainment, 15, retail & rental)

Nothing taps into a society's underlying cultural anxieties quite as effectively as horror and sci-fi, and producer JJ Abrams delivers the first creatively interesting 9/11 movie in this nerve-jangling tale of a gigantic creature attacking New York.

Initial speculation about the tightly veiled project suggested he might be making a new Godzilla movie, a particularly apt comparison given that Japan's king of the monsters was himself a metaphorical response to the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The genius of Cloverfield is that it's all captured with a breathless realism on camcorder, with no soundtrack and the audience allowed to know only what the characters know.

It all starts innocently enough, with an extended sequence at a farewell party for Rob (Michael Stahl-David) before he heads off to a new life in Japan, an opportunity to get a feel for the characters which ends abruptly when the building shudders and everybody rushes out onto the roof to see a huge fireball blossoming in downtown Manhattan.

As the partygoers evacuate to avoid flying debris, there's a colossal roar and the decapitated head of the Statue of Liberty comes hurtling down into their midst, signalling the onset of a night of devastation and horror as a huge creature lurches from the water to lay waste to the Big Apple.

Thereafter, Rob and his friends make a desperate bid to escape the island before he learns one-time love Beth (Odette Yustman) is trapped in her building and heads off to rescue her.

Abrams, director Matt Reeves and writer Drew Goddard do an incredible job of keeping their audience off-guard and on edge, giving tantalising glimpses of the shambling behemoth before ramping up the terror further by briefly narrowing the focus to the threat posed by the small parasite creatures it sheds in its wake.

The horrific echoes of 9/11 are inescapable, from the shocking violation and confusion of the attack to the panicked population scuttling for safety in the dust-choked streets, and the you-are-there immediacy of the filming style is augmented every step of the way by wholly plausible characters and dialogue.

Far more than merely a Godzilla movie shot Blair Witch Project-style, Cloverfield is a completely immersive, adrenalin-squirting experience that resonates long after the final credits roll.

OVER HER DEAD BODY

(Entertainment In Video, 12, retail & rental)

Beautiful but high-maintenance Kate (Eva Longoria Parker) is crushed to death on her wedding day by a falling ice sculpture, but she's not going to let that keep her down.

Sent back to Earth by a tetchy angel, she makes it her mission to protect her gloomy almost-widower Henry (Paul Rudd) – getting particularly jealous when he starts paying attention to sexy psychic

Ashley (Lake Bell) and using her ghostly powers to make the woman's life a nightmare of social embarrassments.

Writer/director Jeff Lowell has a good line in sassy, sarcastic dialogue, raising this knockabout supernatural love triangle above the usual fluffy romantic comedy nonsense, and all three likeable leads show an appropriate lightness of touch.

Star rating: ★★★

HOPSCOTCH

(Second Sight, 12, retail)

A fine if not terribly ambitious showcase for the talents of laconic, basset hound-faced Walter Matthau, 1980's Hopscotch casts him as aging and somewhat cranky US spy Miles Kendig, who mischievously decides to upstage his employers when they rashly try to sideline him into a dreary desk job.

With company man Myerson (Ned Beatty) on his case and occasional help from his opposite number in the KGB (the ever-wonderful Herbert Lom) and a former lover (Glenda Jackson, without much to do), he trots around the globe writing and distributing his damaging memoirs a chapter at a time and using his wealth of experience in espionage to stay always one step ahead of the pursuit, just to show that he can.

The film's a bit of a compromise, neither laugh-out-loud funny enough to be a great comedy nor exciting enough to be a great thriller, but it's never less than amiably amusing and there are far worse ways to spend 104 minutes than enjoying Matthau's effortless curmudgeonly delivery and the script's gentle lampooning of the Cold War spying game.

Star rating: ★★★

BURIED ALIVE

(Lionsgate UK, 18, retail & rental)

Given how simple and formulaic fan-pleasing slasher films are (take a group of pretty things, add gratuitous nudity and bloody deaths), it's a mystery why director Robert Kurtzman makes such heavy work of it.

The basic elements are all here, with a gang of chums off to a remote house for some sorority pranks, recreational drug use, extra-marital sex and treasure-hunting; there's even Tobin (Saw) Bell as a creepy caretaker and the vengeful ghost of a woman believed to have been buried alive.

All you need to do is stir it up and pour on the ketchup, but Kurtzman makes us endure 45 minutes of uninteresting banter before serving up the first (admittedly startling) kill and then another 20 for the second – come on, man, this isn't Citizen Kane and the long chunks of exposition and chat do nothing for the movie but give you time to ruminate far too deeply on the gaping plot holes and stupid decisions the characters have to make to keep the story moving.

Jim Tanfield and Chris Moss

bygone era when even light-hearted, kiddie-orientated pop had something about it.

TO SURVIVE

Joan As Police Woman (album, Reveal)

If Joan Wasser's debut album Real Life saw her step out from the considerable shadows of fellow troubled troubadours Rufus Wainwright and Antony Hegarty, both of whom she has sung backing vocals for, this quietly anticipated follow-up shows her blossoming into a composed, self-assured singer/songwriter in her own right. By turns serene, lovelorn and vulnerable, the album sees her tremulous voice wavering between resolute strength and heartbreaking fragility, imbuing each song with a contradictory, light/dark aesthetic employed to magnificent effect on the title track.

CHESS MOVES

Various (album, Chess)

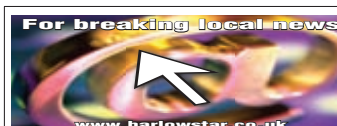

Raiding the prodigious vaults at the legendary Chess Records, maverick producer and former session drummer Keith LeBlanc has picked out a few raw nuggets of primal, hollerin' and howlin' blues and retrofitted them with some rather tasty post-funk grooves for this entrancing compilation. A brilliantly simple idea, LeBlanc resurrects forgotten classics such as Howlin' Wolf's Moanin' At Midnight and Sugar Boy Crawford's Jock A Mo, dusting off their cobwebs and shaking their thang in a thoroughly postmodern kind of dance – this is the sound of future blues.

FABRIC LIVE 40

Noisia (album, Fabric)

This really exposes the fine line between death metal and hard dance even though, socially and fashion-wise, never the twain shall never. Hitting a heady 200-plus bpm at times, there's little room for anything other than Noisia's idiosyncratic sonar blips and industrial fog horns in the background. The Tide sounds like a proper early '90s thumper, stamping its foot for attention amid the saccharine pop and posterosely-fringed indie brigands of the day. Pretty average throughout, nonetheless.

Meet the 4x4 Ford that doesn't play by the rules

B RILLIANTLY styled, smartly finished and powered by one of the better diesel engines in its class, the Ford Kuga is one of this year's must-have cars. With car-like driving dynamics allied to the security of four-wheel drive, it's tightly priced and creating quite a buzz. For a company that has counted on SUVs for such a huge proportion of its global earnings, Ford has had a surprisingly patchy track record with the things in the UK. Where other manufacturers have jumped on the 4x4 bandwagon and made some decent coin, Ford has tried halfheartedly with a succession of mavericks. Now it appears to be trying a different tack. Rather than convince the British public that they need a big, butch wagon slathered in chrome, Ford has instead unleashed the Kuga, a so-called crossover vehicle that tries to meld the best bits of 4x4 ownership with none of the anti-socially obese excess. It's one of the few 4x4s that won't have you mumbling an apologetic justification when people ask what you drive. 4x4s polarise opinion. Either they're so ridiculously macho that you feel the need to start chewing tobacco and killing your own food in order to drive them or they're so self-consciously suburban that you'll look like a harassed school run mum – neither is a good look and a significant number of people despise them. The Kuga is different. For a start it's manageably sized, which means that the urban driving experience is a pleasant one.

Powered by a 2.0-litre Duratorq TDCi 136PS diesel engine with standard particulate filter and a six-speed manual transmission, the Kuga comes with a full-time Haldex intelligent AWD system. The engine provides 320Nm of torque at 2,000rpm and 340Nm should you really put your foot down and need what Ford calls 'transient overboost'. Show the Kuga a straight, well-surfaced road and it serves up a good standard of ride comfort and refinement. The ride is reasonably firm and that helps the Kuga resist body roll when cornered vigorously, plus it's also less liable to become unsettled over bumps in the road. The accurate steering makes it easier to position the car, too.

Outside, the detailing is exquisite, Ford hitting just the right tone between sporting aggression and nuggety cuteness.

The interior isn't quite as successful. It's surprisingly small, the Kuga being one of those increasingly rare cars that doesn't pull all manner of packaging tricks out of its hat. Space in the back is tight for anything other

Ford Kuga

Insurance group	12
CO <sub>2</sub> emissions	169g/km
Performance	0-60mph 9.6s / max 124mph
Fuel consumption	(combined) 44.1mpg

Price	£20,495-£22,495 on the road

than kids, and drivers who are long in the body will find headroom an issue when getting in and out. This high seating position will be a huge bonus for women and shorter guys, but those with short legs will find that they'll need to shift their seat forward to such an extent that the heavily raked windscreen starts getting very close. The centre console appears to have been lifted from the C-MAX, but a few more of that car's practical touches wouldn't have gone amiss, especially for rear passengers.

The second row of seating has a 60/40 split and can fold flat to maximise the load space. Underseat storage beneath the second row with further storage under the floor of the luggage compartment area offers maximum practicality. The Kuga has a generous luggage capacity of 1,355 litres when in two-seat mode, while the enclosed luggage compartment achieves a volume of up to 410 litres.

Two trim levels are offered. Zetec comes with keyless start, 17-inch alloy wheels, air conditioning, ESP stability control, anti-lock brakes with electronic brakeforce distribution and an MP3 connector to plug into your iPod. For all of this you'll be expected to hand over £20,495.

Two grand extra nets you the Titanium model, which gets part-leather trim, rain-sensing wipers, automatic headlights, cruise control, blue tinted glass and dual climate control. Other options include a rear-facing camera (which is useful due to the rather poor rear visibility caused by the Kuga's high rear end), panoramic roof, USB connector and DAB radio.

On the face of it, the £22,790 Citroën would charge for the bigger, quicker and more versatile C-Crosser 2.2Hdi seems a much smarter buy, but the Kuga is aiming at a different sector. It targets less price-conscious buyers who are after a car that doesn't play by the normal compact 4x4 rules.

Fuel economy shouldn't keep prospective owners awake at night, the 2.0TDCi engine returning a healthy 44.1mpg, and carbon dioxide emissions are a similarly benign 169g/km. Even around town, the Kuga will see 34.9mpg and the quoted extra urban, or open road, fuel economy is 52.3mpg.

In concentrating on selling us a niche crossover vehicle, Ford might just have hit on something. The Kuga looks great, it'll persuade a few 4x4 drivers to downsize into something more suited to their requirements and, in equipping it solely with a 2.0-litre turbodiesel engine, Ford has made a powerful statement regarding the environmental credentials of this sort of vehicle. Perhaps the Kuga's most impressive achievement is that it's a four-wheel drive car that targets an urban clientele but which it's virtually impossible to take exception to. That'll be more than enough justification for a very respectable swathe of customers.

Borough of Broxbourne

The closing date for the following posts is 20th June 2008

INTERNAL AUDIT MANAGER – (Ref 1R)
DEPARTMENT OF RESOURCES
Salary up to £45,000 pa (pro rata)
Up to 25 hours per week - hours negotiable

The Council is seeking to recruit an experienced professional to manage a small team of internal auditors. This post reports to the Director of Resources and is designated Head of Internal Audit as defined by CIPFA's Code of Practice for Internal Audit in Local Government in the United Kingdom 2006.

You will be a full member of an appropriate professional organisation (either IIA or CCAB) and will have a strong track record of delivering high quality audit services within a local authority or similarly complex organisation.

You will focus on raising standards and driving forward the internal audit service to ensure that it adds value to the Council's services, as well as fulfilling its statutory role. Proven leadership skills and experience in developing and managing staff are essential in this post, as is the ability to communicate, influence and motivate at all levels.

CIVIL ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS – (Ref 1E1285)
Part-time or full time staff required
Salary up to £17,000 pa (based on a 40 hour week)

Civil Enforcement Officers patrol the Borough of Broxbourne, both on-street and in the Council's off-street town centre pay and display car parks, issuing penalty charge notices and undertaking other inspections and enforcement relating to environmental problems.

Applicants should ideally be computer literate, have a manual driving licence, be able to demonstrate excellent people skills, and be prepared to work in all weathers, at weekends and bank holidays on a rota basis.

The closing date for the following posts is 27th June 2008

TRAINEE PLANNER / PLANNING ASSISTANT – (Ref 1E109N)
Salary range £18,000 - £25,000 pa according to qualifications and experience

We need an enthusiastic, self motivated person with good customer care skills to work in our busy planning team.

This is an opportunity to gain broad experience in a multi-faceted service handling around 1200 planning applications per year. There are opportunities to work in all areas of development control and planning policy providing early opportunities for career progression.

The duties will include dealing with planning applications preparing issues papers, policy and consultation documents and strategic planning as well as undertaking environmental and infrastructure projects with other teams.

The Council will consider applications from graduates with some planning experience or interest who wish to study for RTPI membership or from non-graduates with an interest in planning who wish to pursue an interesting career direction, with full training support.

Applicants should be IT literate and be car owner/drivers. The salary on appointment will reflect qualifications and experience.

TRAINEE ENGINEER/ENGINEERING ASSISTANT - (Ref 1E0365)
Salary range from £18,000 - £25,000 pa according to qualifications and experience

Applicants are sought from individuals who wish to start a career in engineering. This provides an exciting opportunity to gain valuable experience with a team of engineers and surveyors who work closely together to improve the environment and maintain and enhance the facilities within the Borough. They will assist with the management of the capital rolling programme of works and private development sites. They will also assist with the design and supervision of small projects, the implementation of traffic regulation orders and the setting out of vehicle crossovers. The postholder will also be given the chance to get involved with new initiatives and to develop skills in other areas of work including the improvement of the Council's property portfolio.

The Council will consider applications from graduates, A-Level/HNC students possibly with an interest in or experience in engineering who wish to study for a formal engineering qualification. We would also consider non-graduates with an interest in engineering who wish to pursue an interesting new career direction, with full training support.

Applicants must be IT literate and be car owner/drivers. They must have a demonstrable commitment to customer service. A working knowledge of AutoCAD would be helpful, but training will be provided.

The benefits package includes generous annual leave entitlement, flexible working hours, a full training and development programme, performance related pay, free membership to our local leisure centre and local government pension scheme.

Apply to Personnel Services for further information and an application form to be returned by the relevant closing date, quoting the appropriate reference number.

Environment, Sustainability & Highways

Passenger Transport Monitoring Inspector

£7,102 - £7,924 p.a. (pay award pending)

Harlow

Please quote ref: SCJ0493

Working as part of a team, you will be responsible for ensuring that all transport services operated under contract to Essex County Council are monitored, and any failings are reported and recorded. The role is extremely varied and includes investigating complaints, resolving issues and identifying actions to improve service quality. This will involve undertaking satisfaction surveys ensuring customer standards are met. You will also carry out revenue checks and undertake punctuality surveys.

The role will take you throughout Essex, so a good geographical knowledge of the area is a must, together with the flexibility to work some early mornings. On average you will be working 18.5 hours per week, but this may be varied to meet the requirements of the service – appropriate notice will of course be given of changes to working patterns and rotas. In recognition of this working pattern, the position attracts an additional 4% allowance for early mornings.

The duties of this job require the postholder to travel throughout an operational area, therefore a valid driving licence and use of car is required unless the role can be undertaken effectively by other alternative transport arrangements. For applicants with a disability as defined by the Disability Discrimination Act, the scope for reasonable adjustments will be explored with them as part of the selection process.

This position is based on 965 hours per annum (annualised hours contract).

For informal enquiries, please contact Richard Preece on 01245 437738.

WORK-RELATED LEARNING MANAGER

The four schools, working with Cambridge Regional College, are collaborating over the introduction in September 2009 of "DIPLOMA" courses in Business, Information Technology and Health/Social Care which emphasise applied learning in vocational settings.

In order to develop the essential involvement of employers in these new national programmes, the Partnership is seeking an experienced manager, preferably with marketing skills and recent engagement with local business and/or public sector. A teaching background is not required.

A significant budget is available for the employment, initially on a one-year part-time fixed term contract, of a suitably qualified person for this exciting opportunity. The WRL Manager will be a key member of the Partnership's Operations Board and will take up the post as soon as possible.

Further details are available from Pat Russell at Saffron Walden county High School, Audley End Road, Saffron Walden CB11 4UH. Tel: 01799 512184 (direct line), e-mail prussell@saffronwalden.essex.sch.uk.

Applications should reach David Boatman, Partnership Director, via Pat Russell at Saffron Walden County High School by 23rd June 2008.

Aspects Extended Schools Consortium consists of 20 primary schools and six secondary schools covering Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth and surrounding villages. The following exciting opportunities are available commencing September 2008 based at The Bishop's Stortford High School hub location.

Children & Young People's Support Worker

Salary: £18,316 (H5) pay award pending

28 hours per week pro rata

You will enable children and young people in schools who have unmet needs to access appropriate services. By supporting school staff in the implementation of integrated practice, including the development of the Common Assessment Framework, Team around the Child and the lead professional role, you will work holistically to improve outcomes for children and young people, helping them reach their full potential.

Parent Support Worker

Salary: £18,316 (H5) pay award pending

28 hours per week pro rata

You will promote the engagement of parents in their children's learning, development and well being. You will develop collaborative links with parents/cares, professionals and colleagues in other agencies to increase awareness of positive parenting. You will provide a dedicated resource for parent support, organising a range of flexible services and activities, including outreach in the family home, drop in and advice sessions.

Both above posts require flexibility and some evening, weekend and school holiday working will be required to meet outcomes.

Administrator

Salary: £14,732 (H2) pay award pending

15 hours per week pro rata

You will assist in the effective delivery and successful implementation of extended services. You will develop and maintain administrative systems to support the extended schools programme.

For an informal discussion regarding the above posts please contact Linda Burns (extended Schools Co-ordinator) on 01279 869519

a breath of fresh air IT support assistant

£16,752 - £20,634 (pay award pending) Ref: OD044

Bishops Stortford Fixed Term Contract - 1 year

Are you looking for your first career job in IT? Would you like to work for a local employer that is committed to professional training, has progressive staff policies, a well developed flexitime scheme and even a final salary pension scheme?

You will join a diverse team of systems developers and network and infrastructure analysts, focusing on helping over 300 customers with their IT issues and problems. You will also be trained to help Councillors who use our IT equipment to support their work in the community.

You won't be a small cog in a big system - so you'll be encouraged to gain experience in several aspects of a busy IT function, supporting all the departments of the Council.

If you would like to discuss this position please call David Frewin on 01279 502158 or email david.frewin@eastherts.gov.uk

To apply, visit www.eastherts.gov.uk/vacancies quoting reference. Closing date: 27/06/08.

GOODS VEHICLE OPERATOR'S LICENCE

SUZANNE MILLWARD trading as Bushmill Skips of Unit S2, Watertown Site, Rookwood Hall, Abbess Roding, Ongar, Essex CM5 0JL is applying for a licence to use Unit S2, Watertown Site, Rookwood Hall, Abbess Roding, Ongar, Essex CM5 0JL as an operating centre for 2 goods vehicles and 0 trailers. Owners or occupiers of land (including buildings) near the operating centre(s) who believe that their use or enjoyment of that land would be affected, should make written representations to the Traffic Commissioner at Eastern Traffic Area, Hillcrest House, 386 Harehills Lane, Leeds, LS9 6NF stating their reasons within 21 days of this notice. Representatives must at the same time send a copy of their representations to the applicant at the address given at the top of this notice. A Guide to making Representations is available from the Traffic Commissioner's Office.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To introduce a temporary 30mph speed limit on the following length of First Avenue, in the District of Harlow. From the junction of First Avenue and Velizy Avenue, eastbound along First Avenue until the junction with the A414 Roundabout. The existing 40mph speed limit shall apply unless otherwise signposted as 30mph.

The temporary speed limit is scheduled to commence on 16 June 2008 until approximately 31 March 2009, where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The temporary speed limit is required for the safety of the work force and public during the construction of the new inbound bus lane and whilst general highway improvement works are undertaken.

Schedule 2 of The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph Speed Limit) Order 2004 is hereby suspended in so far as it relates to First Avenue, thus restricting that part of First Avenue to 30mph speed limit, unless signs show otherwise. All other restrictions will remain in force.

The Order will come into effect on 16 June 2008 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 12 June 2008.

Running club women seal 5K title

HARLOW Running Club's women's team scooped the honours in the final race of a 5K series.

They won the series of three races overall and claimed four wins in the individual categories through Sharon Wright (senior), Dionne Jones (veteran 35), Karen Moir (vet 40) and Joanne Mills (vet 60).

In the last race, Wright was 2nd (21 mins 57 secs). She was followed home by Jennifer Spelling (3rd, 22:00), Jones (4th, 22:13) and Vicky Steadman (5th, 22:19).

Elsewhere, 11 Harlow Running Club members completed the inaugural Bishop's Stortford 10K.

Timothy Miles was the first Harlow runner home. He completed the course in 44 mins, 31 secs coming 35th.

He was closely followed by John Bull (44:56, 41st).

Other Harlow RC results: Pasquale Pellecchia 46:03, 54th; Martin McColgan 47:27, 71st; Derek Seymour 48:48, 89th; Ronald Newton 51:01, 112th; Anne Kleijwegt 51:10, 118th; Alison Bull 54:17, 145th; John Smith 57:43, 170th; Sean Fowler 1:01:26, 190th; Karen Phillips 1:02:52, 193rd.

Southend Half-Marathon results: John Tennant 1:28:30; Vicky Steadman 1:44:08.

Reed rewrites cup history

PAUL Reed recorded the best ever figures by a Sawbridgeworth bowler in the 23-year history of the Herts County Cup on Sunday.

His 5-8 dashed any ambition Hoddesson had of overhauling Sawbridgeworth's 304-6 as they were dispatched for a miserly 77 as the hosts wrapped up a convincing 227-run win in the first round.

Sawbridgeworth will meet Bishop's Stortford in the second round on Sunday July 6.

Reed scythed through the Hoddesson lower order, who offered little resistance as they were shot out in just 21 overs. Their last seven wickets fell for a meagre 24 runs.

Paul James took 4-43.

Earlier, Sawbridgeworth skipper Danny Wilson scored a superb century.

In Saturday's league match, Sawbridgeworth (219-7) defeated Harpenden (216) by three wickets. Wilson again top scored with 57 and took four wickets for 33 runs.

Medal haul for karate club

Karate

KARATE players from Harlow returned from the Commonwealth Championships in Edinburgh clutching a haul of medals.

The Hanko Ryu Association, which runs classes at Mark Hall Sportscentre and Church Langley Community Centre, sent a squad of 12, including seven from Harlow, up to Scotland for the karate championships.

A total of 1,300 karate players competed in the tournament, including some from India, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and Botswana as well as many from the UK.

Harlow's Reece Taylor and Clare Bonello took silver in their respective male and female Open kata sections. Clare also went on to seal bronze in the elite section.

Sean Perry (12) got bronze in a category of 51 boys aged between 10- and 12-years-old. Marjan Jeddi, Lucy Palmer and Minal Patel all secured well deserved bronze medals in the girls under 15 years team kata event.

The squad then had to dash to Edinburgh airport to make their flight home.

In total the Hanko-Ryu Association brought home five silver and six bronze medals.

Norcott saves the day for leaders

A FINE knock from Wade Norcott rescued Harlow Town and guided them to victory at Molehill Green.

Responding to the hosts' tally of 162, the division three pacesetters slipped to 24-3 before Norcott took the game away from the hosts.

He hit 15 fours and two sixes in his 91 not out and received sterling support from Ashley Alderson (25) and Ron Yates (11 not out) in stands of 74 and 65 for the fourth and fifth wickets.

Earlier, Harlow skipper Vic Goddard won the toss and put Green in to bat on a wet wicket.

Slick fielding saw Goddard run out Molehill opener Mal Wright for 0 before Town bowler

Molehill Green 162, Harlow Tn 163-5

Harlow Tn won by 5 wickets (Lords International Herts & Essex Cricket League, division three)

Dan Calver claimed three wickets for 28 runs.

Molehill carried the attack back to Town with Tom Coleman scoring 51 and receiving some support from younger brother Jack Coleman, who made 15 before he got out to a bad ball from Goddard.

Goddard took two more wickets to finish with 3-27 while the Molehill tail was wrapped up by Simon Rowell (2-3).

POTTER STREET registered a solid seven-wicket home win over Woodford Wells IV in the same division.

The hosts won the toss and put Woodford in to bat. Although the top four all reached double figures the rest of the batting folded and the visitors were bowled out for just 102.

Richard Boon (4-31) was the main wicket taker for Street, with Paul Lenihan (2-14), Surath Bastola (1-32) and Chaudhry Wahid (2-24) taking the other wickets.

Street reached the modest target with 12 overs to spare chiefly through first- and second-wicket stands of 38 and 56, with Chandan Katoch (49) being supported firstly by Shaurya Bastola (10) and then skipper Mushtaq Ahmad (26).

In division five, the scores were tied between Harlow Town seconds (135-6) and Stansted Hall (135).

However, Harlow were awarded the victory as they had lost fewer wickets.

Hosts Stansted had needed three runs off the last ball.

They got some help when they scored two runs off a no ball following an overthrow from the normally reliable Karl Secharan.

From the seventh delivery of the over, Town forced a run out to leave the scores tied.

The pick of the Town bowlers was Terry Blackwell (4-29).

Harlow Town III's (89) lost by 35 runs at home to Abridge (124) in division seven.

In the same division, Potter Street II (97-4) won by six wickets at Langley II (93).

Epping edge thriller by single run

Epping 127, Benfleet 126 (Shepherd Neame Essex League, division three)

A NAIL-BITING match ended with Epping beating Benfleet by just one run.

Having lost the toss and been put in to bat, Epping found batting difficult against the new ball and quickly lost five wickets.

R. Pryor (4-41) and D. Miles (2-24) bowled well and made the most of the swinging conditions and gained movement off the seam.

The ship was steadied by Pronob Rob (51) and Mohammad Kayani (16), who batted excellently.

With contributions from the lower order, Epping limped to 127 all out.

Benfleet's innings also suffered at the start with only P. Tremain (18) making any notable contribution of the top five batsmen.

Tim Adams (4-36) and Dean Majeed (1-21) exploited the conditions and made batting very hard.

However, contributions from tailenders R. Pryor (28) and G. Steed (21 not out) ensured such a close finish.

Epping breathed a sigh of relief when the last wicket fell, caught behind, with Benfleet needing just two runs for victory.

● NETTESWELL & Burnt Mill Cricket Club won their first game of the season when they defeated South Loughton by three wickets in a friendly.

A five-wicket haul from Dave Rogerson (5-24) restricted the visitors to 174-9 off their allotted 40 overs at Marigolds.

Skipper Rob Caldwell's 58no and Rogerson's rapid 13 secured the club's first win at the fifth attempt.

Team secures easy victory

A WHITEWASH was completed by Harlow Lawn Tennis Club's men's first team in their Essex Small Clubs League match at the weekend.

Barry Concannon and Richard Baxter, a regular pairing for Harlow, started the day off with an excellent win against host Elsenham's second pair (6-1, 6-3) in windy conditions.

Tim Miller and Stephen Slater, a scratch pairing, then beat Elsenham's first pair 6-4 and 6-4 in their first rubber.

Concannon and Baxter won their second rubber 6-2 and 6-3, while Miller and Slater completed a great day by winning their second rubber 6-2 and 6-3.

Harlow won the tie 16-0 overall.

Kirby eyes five strikers

He will be needed as Lee Miles was released towards the end of last season.

Kirby said: "I had to release Lee before the transfer deadline as he was injured but I am looking to Michael Gliddon to come through and challenge for a place. He just needs to stay clear of injuries."

Triumph caps Marquis' fantastic year

KNIGHTLY MARQUIS: The Marquis team with their tournament medals and the league trophy (s)

MARQUIS Under-12s capped a memorable season by winning a tournament and receiving their prize from former Spurs striker Clive Allen.

At the event in Great Yarmouth, Norfolk, the team triumphed 3-0 in the final against Chapel Fields (Coventry) with strikes from Lewis Whitnall, Alex Luque and Matthew Hurley.

The Midlands side had beaten Marquis 2-1 in the group stages.

However, the Harlow side won the rest of their games including a 5-0 victory against Blackmore Rangers (Kent).

The team has enjoyed tremendous success this campaign, clinching the division one title in their first season in the Mid-Herts Rural Minors League.

A club spokesman said: "It was the first time for some of these players to play together and all of them showed great characters, strength and support for one another."

The side will play in the Chelmsford & District Youth Football League next season.

Essex joy for local athletes

The Burnt Mill School student threw 9.96m in the shot put and only lost out on first place in the final throws.

She has been selected for Essex in the Southern Inter Counties Championships on August 3 at Basildon and will be invited to attend the Essex elite workshops this coming autumn.

Billy Falconer (15), of Passmores School, was rewarded with a fine 2nd spot.

He leapt over 1.84m – a new personal best (PB), only losing out to UK number one Sam Bailey.

Billy has also been put forward to represent Essex at Basildon and will attend the Essex Elite workshops with Cherice.

Potter Street's Aidan Lee, carrying a slight hamstring injury, was most unfortunate to draw lane one in the final of the Inter-Counties boys 200m after winning his heat in 22.7secs.

He battled gamely but finished 2nd in 22.92s.

His fellow Mark Hall School-mate Tom Larkin cruised through his 400m heat in 53.04s and drew lane 8 in the final where he ran 52.8s for 3rd.

Tom Richards (15), of Mark Hall School, was a fine 4th in the javelin in a PB of 48.87m, losing out to three of the best javelin throwers in the UK.

Burnt Mill's Sophie Fuhr (14) cruised through her 800m heat in 2 mins 36 secs. In the final she stayed with the eventual winner Eleanor Bounds through a very fast lap of 67 seconds and eventually finished 4th out of 12 in a PB of 2:24.3.

Daniel Xaxley (15), from Stewards School, made his 800m final and claimed 8th in a PB of 2:07.5.

At the Millennium Stadium at Battersea Park, Harlow's Mark Hunt represented Chelmsford AC and ran a fine 48.5s (PB) in the 400m to claim 2nd in a Men's Southern League meeting.

On Tuesday, Sophie Fuhr clinched victory in her first ever 400m race. She ran 62.2s in an open meeting at Woodford Green AC.

Thornton Cup loss for golfers

CANONS Brook Golf Club suffered a narrow defeat in the second round of the Thornton Cup against local rivals West Essex.

Although the Harlow club went down by 9-6, the result failed to reflect the closeness of the match with several matches decided on the final green.

Canons Brook's Steve Jones and Andrew Thomson showed good form, both remaining undefeated in their respective matches.

Kieran Brownell's net score of 68 (five under par) was enough to win Sunday's Gilbey Commemorative Cup – one of the oldest competitions played at the Elizabeth Way club.

The 18-hole medal competition saw 100 golfers take part.

In second place was 14-year-old Ben Spong with a net 70.

Trophy win is a Shaw thing

HERTFORDSHIRE'S picturesque village of Northchurch situated on the Grand Union Canal was the venue for Stort Valley's latest fishing outing.

Fifteen members of the Harlow club were present but many struggled on what was a patchy venue, although a total of just over 100lbs of fish made the net – and the top five weights all came from the same area.

To lift the Paul Richardson Trophy, Kevin Shaw used pole tactics to net a fine mixed bag weighing in at 24lbs 7ozs.

Ever-present Graham Taylor managed to catch 19lbs 4ozs for second place, just over 5lbs ahead of Malcolm Gregg in third spot.

Royals reign in memorial tournament

PARNDON Royals came second in the Harlow & District Football League but gained their second piece of cup silverware when they won the Eric Foster Memorial Tournament.

The 32-team five-a side event at Fairways on Sunday saw Royals defeat GPCA 1-0 in the final thanks to a well-taken goal from Paul Goodger.

Richard Goodchild had a penalty saved by Parndon keeper James May.

It meant Parndon gained some revenge on GPCA, who pipped them to the premier division title this season, although Parndon won the Harlow & District League Cup.

In the last four, Royals beat Rouge Lyon on penalties after the tie had finished goalless.

In the Plate final, run for teams who failed to qualify from the initial group stages, Ridsden Wood beat Unique 3-1. Nathan Blake (2) and Martyn Henry got the goals.

The annual tournament is held in memory of Foster, who was the League's registration secretary for many years. He died in 2005.

Paxmans double up for track joy

THE versatility of the Paxman twins proved a boon for Harlow Athletic Club in a Southern League men's division three north meeting.

Glen and Carl picked up valuable points in track and field events at the event which saw Harlow finish third.

The siblings dominated the sprints at Braintree on Saturday.

Glen won the A string 100m, 200m and 400m in 11.8 seconds, 23.6s and 51.3s respectively, while Carl was first in the B string 100m and 400m in 11.8s and 54.6s respectively.

Brian Cannon also gained a first in the B 200m (25.2s).

The trio, together with David Marriott won the 4x100m in 47.00s while Marriott, Scott

Athletics

Daniel and the Paxman brothers were second in the 4x400m in 3mins 41.1s.

Glen Paxman won the A triple jump with a new personal best (PB) of 12.07m.

Mark Hall sports supremo Daniel was first in the B string event (11.65m).

The long jump saw Carl and Glen come second in their respective A and B string events with leaps of 5.66m and 5.49m.

A PB was also claimed by Daniel when he was second in the A javelin with a throw of 46.89m.

Carl Paxman was first in the B javelin (38.15m), while Daniel claimed another PB in the A string discus when he came third with a throw of 30.83m.

Harlow veteran Dave Bauer has been troubled by an elbow injury and he was restricted to the hammer event. He came second in the A string with a 30.39m throw, while club chairman Chris Clark was second in the B hammer with 22.14m.

Clark also competed in the B shot put (7.60m, 4th) and B discus (22.74m, 3rd).

Jamie Solomon won the A 800m in 2:09.1 and Liam Mistrey was third in the A 1,500m (4:34.4).

The pole vault and high jump events were not held because of health and safety issues.

Harlow came third out of four competing teams. They are now sixth out of 16 teams in the division after two meetings.

Other results: John Evans B 800m 2:32.2, 4th and B 5,000m 20:36.3, 4th; B 1,500m 5:01.60, 4th; Rick Ricketts A 5,000m 19:52.5 4th; Paul Avontuur A shot put 8.59m, 3rd.

Winning run crucial for Sports

A STRONG team spirit and resilience played a crucial part in Harlow Sports U-9 team winning the Mid-Herts Rural Football League.

The team drew and lost their first two games before going on to win all their remaining 14 games.

Harlow Sports play at The Link in Parsloe Road.

Team boss Andrew Spillane was thrilled about the way the team had performed this season.

"It was the first time we have been in a league and we thought it was going to be tough after the first two games," he said.

"They just went on to win games and even when we went behind we just got on with it. The spirit was good."

TOP SEASON: Harlow Sports U-9s are celebrating an excellent season (WPOVFSZD02)

Mark Hall miss out on futsal final

YOUNG footballers from Mark Hall School competed in an annual futsal tournament attended by West Ham star Matthew Etherington.

Redbridge College organised the five-a-side football event, which has hockey-sized goals.

The sport relies on players' skills and ability to react quickly.

Mark Hall's Under-12 team failed to reach the final which featured last year's winners Royal Docks and Shenfield.

The defending champions won thanks to a late extra-time goal.

They will represent Essex in the FA National Futsal Festival later this year.

Elliott makes his Mark

MARK Elliott clinched victory in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League's annual Owls Open tournament.

A total of 140 players took part in the competition at the GPCA in Abercrombie Way, Harlow.

Elliott, from Hemel Hempstead, Herts, won the final 5-2 against Andy Kately, from Ongar.

He won £250, while Kately took the £100 runners-up prize.

Local interest ended when Harlow's Damian Green lost his semi-final against the eventual winner.

Green had previously beaten Harlow's Alex Hogg in his quarter-final. Other local semi-finalists were Geoff Jordan, Stuart Willey and Ronnie Green.

Other prize-winners: Best Lady – joint winners Jackie McNally (Harlow), Donna Russell (Barking) winning £25 each.

Highest shot out – Alex Tinsley (Chelmsford), winning £25.

● SOME 100 players (25 teams) contested the Harlow & District Premier Darts League KO Fours Competition last Friday.

The CC Whites A team of Steve Jefferies, Alex Hogg, Mick Rout and Steve Salter triumphed in the final with a 2-0 win against CC Foxes A (Sandy Grant, Phil Cox, Steve Gosnell and Keith Waddingham).

Whites went through the whole competition without losing a leg.

They enjoyed 2-0 wins against Colt Hatch B, Servo Hawks A, before beating Moot House Arrows A 2-0 in the semi-final.

Foxes' route to the final involved 2-1 wins against MH Arrows B, Young Pretenders C, Young Pretenders B, before a semi-final defeat of Servo Hawks B.

Kirby eyes five strikers

RYAN Kirby will be hoping to unearth a striking gem during the forthcoming pre-season programme for Harlow Town. The Hawks lacked goalpower last season and the player-boss needs to add to his strike force with only rookies Danny Green, Daryl Doonan and Craig Charles available to assist veteran front-man James Bunn. Dean Williams, signed from Wingate & Finchley, disappointed and was released near the end of last term.

Kirby signed young strikers James Lindie and Rhys Henry on loan from Southend due to the club's lack of quality forwards. Kirby said: "I am looking for centre forwards but it has to be the right one. There is not a lot in the budget and I have five forwards coming in for pre-season. "We created a lot of chances last year but did not take enough of them." Ellis Remy, who played for Folkestone Invicta last season, is one striker Kirby will run the rule over. "Ellis did not play against us last season but I am told he can use both feet and he's strong in the air." Young forward Charles showed potential in the 2005/06 campaign but has been bedevilled by injury over the last two seasons. "He has been out for so long he is really starting from scratch but Daryl Doonan could be in there. He scored a lot of goals for the reserves last season," said Kirby. Michael Gliddon could get a regular defensive slot.

JAMES Butler and his Harlow team are buoyant after the Marigolds side went top of the league following a comprehensive home victory over Harold Wood.

With leaders Loughton's game against Leigh-on-Sea abandoned because of wet conditions on Saturday, Butler's men took advantage to go clear by two points.

Butler said: "It's absolutely fantastic if albeit unfamiliar territory! The changing room is buzzing at the moment and the team spirit is great as you would expect whilst we are winning. "We still have an extremely young side with only two players over 30 in the team on Saturday so it will be good to welcome back Zap Nazir, an experienced head for our tough trip to Southend this Saturday."

Harlow lost the toss and were inserted on a sticky looking pitch.

Openers Nilesh Odedra and Nick Butler struggled to build any momentum before Butler nicked one behind to the wicket-keeper.

The only home batsman in the top five to make an impact was Haroon Khan, who played very well and did not let the Harold Wood medium pacers dominate as he struck 32.

Harlow batted beyond the 52 overs, taking valuable batting time from Harold Wood and once again Tom Worthington batted well, making 33 not out as Harlow eked out a score of 121.

Harlow 121, Harold Wd 66
(Shepherd Neame Essex League, division two)

In reply, Wood had a bad start as Worthington snared a wicket with his third ball when opener Nadeen Sohail was caught by James Butler at short leg.

Then Nicky Baxter, making a return to the first team, took centre stage with three key wickets including that of Wood's professional Rizwan Qureshi.

The visitors struggled to 45-5 before the off spin of Nick Butler came to the fore.

He destroyed the remaining batsmen, taking his second five-wicket haul in three weeks and finishing with 5-16.

"I knew we were in with a chance with 121 on the board and it was key that we did not give them something like four hours to get the runs," the Harlow skipper said.

"Tom Worthington showed his quality and Nicky Baxter was fantastic with the ball and in the field but they [Harold Wood] should be kicking themselves. Nick Butler bowled beautifully, he is proving a key player for us this season as not many sides have a quality off spinner."

Harlow seconds (134) went down by seven wickets at Hornchurch (136-3) in division one of the second XI league, while Harlow fourths (59) slumped to a 105-run defeat at the hands of Chingford (164-8d) in division four west.

Harlow thirds' scheduled home game against Hadleigh and Thundersley was abandoned as the pitch was too wet.
